Dear Wallingford Residents,

The Wallingford Health Department in conjunction with the Connecticut Agricultural Station have been monitoring the mosquito trapping site in town located on South Elm Street dating back to the week of June 17, 2019. At this time, there has not been a positive result in the mosquito testing for either West Nile Virus (WNV) or Eastern Equine Encephalitis (EEE). The Health Department will continue to monitor the situation and inform the community as this matter evolves. Proper precautions should always be taken as it relates to mosquito bite prevention. The following measures can be taken to help prevent mosquito bites:

- Wear long pants and long sleeves when going outdoors
- Apply mosquito repellent spray with DEET to all exposed skin
- Remove standing water where mosquitoes breed on your property
- Use screens on windows and doors to keep mosquitos from entering your home

Please contact the Wallingford Health Department (203) 294-2065 for questions regarding WNV or EEE.

Sincerely,

Stephen Civitelli, RS, MPH
Director of Health
