Wallingford EDC Topic on Local Cable Show Preview

Nearly 2300 firms have made Wallingford, Connecticut, their home. This week on Wallingford Government Access Television's (WGTV) Preview program, the Wallingford EDC Chairman, Joe Mirra, discusses the Economic Development Commission's key role in the community in retaining and enhancing the development of new businesses in this strategically located town.

"I think it is very important for our residents and businesses to know more about the Commission," offers Joe. "However, it is the Commission's view that economic development is not just about the Commission. Everyone can contribute to making Wallingford an attractive place to live and for businesses to prosper," says Joe. "Success stories require a team effort."

In the upcoming year, the EDC will be regular guests on WGTV. The EDC topics will include marketing, business ambassadors and incentives. Until then, Joe highlights the Town's website as a vital source of information for residents and businesses. You will find the latest listings of available properties, incentives and links to the new State of Connecticut programs for small business employers.

Mr. Mirra's segment on the March edition of Preview is complemented by interviews with George Adair, Director of Public Utilities, and Fran Brandenburg, Senior Tax Consultant for the IRS. The program will be telecast as follows:

Friday, March 9	6:30 p.m.
Saturday, March 10	8:30 a.m. & 4:30 p.m.
Sunday, March 11	8:30 a.m. & 8:30 p.m.
